Project Description:

'Aboriginal Archives in Italy' is an online space created to promote dialogue and facilitate collaborative research about archival records held in Italian institutions that contain information about Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Peoples and histories. This research project aims to increase the visibility and accessibility of this documentation while providing a participatory space for replies, curation, and storytelling. Monica Galassi has created this project as part of her doctoral studies at the School of International Studies and Education at the Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences (FAAS), University of Technology Sydney (UTS) and in partnership with the Jumbunna Institute for Indigenous Education and Research and other Italian partners.
